

RUM CASE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Confiscated Auto Suit Before Court Wednesday

DEVELOPMENTS ARE AWAITED

Federal Officials to Take Hand in Matter

Operations of rum runners, who are alleged to have supplied Lima and other cities with whiskey from a secret base in Cleveland, may be investigated in a hearing before Justice E. M. Botkin, Wednesday, when the disposition of a car used by Ben Brown, will be determined.

William Deutsch, Cleveland, owner of the roadster, seized by county officers when Brown was taken into custody is seeking to prevent the sale of the machine.

He denies connection with Brown in the matter of transporting liquor to Lima. Officers, however, are of the opinion the car may have been placed in Deutsch's name as a ruse.

Deutsch will be interrogated thoroughly regarding his knowledge of the compartment in the rear of the machine used to carry the 220 quarts of whiskey found.

BROWN CONFESSES
Brown confessed thru counsel, when on trial, that he had made at least two trips to this city. He has, however, refused to divulge his source of supply.

AD RUM RUNNERS
Destruction of the 220 quarts of liquor, which has been ordered by the court, will be carried out within a few days, Sheriff C. W. Baxter declared Tuesday.

Baxter said there will be no delay in carrying out the court's orders, and that he is ready to do so any time the court, defendants, counsel and representatives of the prosecuting attorney's office can all be present.

For the purpose of determining if the liquor is ordinary moonshine or is actually bonded goods, samples of each brand will be submitted to Federal revenue authorities. They will be asked to determine if the labels and revenue stamps are genuine or forged.

STATE CHAIRMAN DURBIN ILL

Head of Democratic Committee Confined—Sees Victory

Information received from Kenyon Tuesday morning was to the effect that W. W. Durbin, head of the Seign Sign Co., and chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, is confined to his home there, suffering from a severe cold and fever.

Durbin left his office at state Democratic headquarters, 710 Hartman building in Columbus, Saturday, suffering from a severe cold and fever, and after reaching his home in Kenyon was ordered to his bed by his physician. A high fever developed and his condition was serious for a time, although not at all alarming.

He was able to sit up on Tuesday and converse with friends concerning the election prospect and reiterated his previous estimate that Donahy and Pompey, and the entire Democratic ticket will sweep the state.

PHILLIPS TRIAL WILL RUN INTO NEXT WEEK

LOS ANGELES — Trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips, charged with the "hammer murder" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows will extend into next week, it was declared as the court recessed for election day.

Delay in closing the unusual case was prefigured by a bitter controversy between attorneys over testimony of alibi. The state won the first victory in this war of legal technicalities when its motion to strike out all testimony by Dr. Edwin Hoag except a direct declaration that he believed Clara insane at the time of the crime.

Three more mental experts are to testify beginning Wednesday.

THIS IS NOT THE SKYLINE, BUT THE-SKIRTLINE OF LIMA

This is the first exclusive view of the great Lima Skirt Line. It was taken at great risk of life on the pavement of Main-st. As the shopping hordes came sweeping down, the cameraman took one look and ran. But he got this picture. It shows that despite all decrees of fashion, the Lima Skirt Line has not yet fallen—on the average. It still ranges from eight to 13 inches above the ground—without the wind blowing.

Y. W. WORKERS GET $1,118 TUESDAY

First Day of Campaign for $18,000 Declared Success

Y. W. C. A. officials expressed complete assurance that their drive would be a success Tuesday afternoon, following the noon luncheon of the workers at Trinity M. E. church, when eight teams reported and turned in subscriptions amounting to $1,118.25.

Two teams failed to report at the luncheon. The subscriptions represent the first half day's work of the drive, which started Tuesday morning. The Y. W. is seeking $18,000.

Because of the fact that Tuesday was election day, workers said, they found a great many of the residents in the various districts away from home.

Treat cure has been taken in organizing the drive to give every resident of Lima a chance to subscribe to the yearly Y. W. C. A. budget.

Oscar Young, of the Ohio State Life Insurance company, the Rev. Jacobs, of Calvary Reformed church, and Mrs. Kent Hughes spoke at the meeting Tuesday.

DOWNFALL SEEN IN TODAY'S VOTE

ery-on is expected to be approximately 75,000.

AKRON—(Associated Press)—With fair weather prevailing, Akron voters went to the polls early today and officials expected a record number of ballots for a state election. The sheriff race between Chris Weaver, Republican, and George Cassman, Democrat, into which the Ka Klux Klan issue has been injected, brought added interest.

YOUNGSTOWN—(Associated Press)—Fair but cool weather prevailed as election day opened with fairly heavy voting here today. Police Captain J. J. McNichols said that friends of U. H. Moore, former Democratic national committeeman, are writing in Moore's name for governor as a protest against A. V. Donahy's recent speech attacking Moore.

TOLEDO—(Associated Press)—Voting was brisk in the early hours here today, long lines of men forming soon after the opening of the booths. Women voted later in the day and indications were that a large woman vote would be cast. The hot race which has developed between W. W. Chalmers, Republican incumbent, and General Isaac Sherwood, Democratic candidate for congress from the ninth Ohio district, both of whose homes are in Toledo, promises to bring out a record-breaking vote in Toledo and Lucas co. The weather is clear and cool.

CLEVELAND—(Associated Press)—Fair and warm weather when the polls opened at 6:30 o'clock brought out large crowds of voters and early reports from many parts of the city indicated a heavy vote was being polled in many precincts. Based on the heavy vote registered during the early morning, election board officials predicted that practically the full registered vote of 136,000 in Cleveland would be cast.

LORAIN—(Associated Press)—Bright skies, high temperature for November and the prohibition issue brought Lorain voters out early today. Women filed to the polls during the early hours. Voting of mixed tickets were indicated by the time spent by the electors in the booths. Lorain will cast its normal vote, election officials said.

HAMILTON—(Associated Press)—Reports from all of Butler-co indicated the heavy vote registered during the early morning. The weather was perfect and interest was high in local county races and the contest between Roy C. Fitzgerald, incumbent, Republican, and Warren Gard, former Representative, Democrat, for the third district selection for Representative to congress.

ALLIANCE—(Associated Press)—Despite the fact that weather conditions are ideal, voters are slow in getting to the polls. In precincts where from 250 to 425 are registered, but from 15 to 25 voters had been cast up to 9:30 this morning.

STURGEVILLE—(Associated Press)—With the sun shining brightly thru the fog shortly after the polls opened, there was evidence this morning of a splendid vote being polled. Women especially were voting heavily and working earnestly in the residential sections. Although no great interest was shown prior to election day, there appears to have been a heavy undercurrent, possibly due to a late fight against the present prosecuting attorney.

CINCINNATI—(Associated Press)—Fair weather brought voters to the polls early in the day in Cincinnati and Hamilton-co. Reports from over the county were that the voting was brisk and that the number of women voting during the morning was unusually large. In many precincts women were at the polls working in the interest of a school tax levy.

NEWARK—(Associated Press)—Voting was brisk in the early hours after the polls opened this morning. Interest in the state and local tickets being increased by a campaign for a school bond issue of $750,000 for a new high school. Women were showing an interest not only in the school proposition but the general ticket as well.

BODY OF ALCOHOL VICTIM TO FT. WAYNE FOR BURIAL

The body of Scott Johnson, 42, decorator, 627 N. Main-st., was said to have died from alcoholism Sunday afternoon in an automobile on the Lafayette-rd seven miles from Lima, was taken to Fort Wayne, Ind., Monday, where the funeral services will be held. Johnson's only living relative, a sister, resides in Fort Wayne.

An autopsy, performed by Coroner A. C. Adams and Dr. D. F. McGuffey showed burns on the lining of the stomach which are thought to have resulted from alcohol. The chemical analysis, which is being made of the stomach, will not be finished until Tuesday night, although a preliminary analysis indicated the presence of poisonous alcohol, the physician said.

JANE BECOMES JANET, MARY NOW MARIE AS STYLE RULES

Women Change Monikers as They Do Coats, Marriage Records Show

Women's names are as up to date in these days of fads and flappers, as are their clothes.

It's a fact. The marriage registers in probate court reads like the cast of a Follies chorus.

The names that our grandmothers were given by their parents are almost altogether missing.

It used to be Faith, and Prudence, Charity and Hope.

Now it's Doris, or Gwendolyn, or Goldie.

Anna used to be a common name for girls, but marriage records disclose less than one percent of the brides of today lay claim to that name.

It's a cinch if they do, its lengthened to Annette, Annabelle, or something of the sort.

Such names as Susan, Cynthia, Sarah and Samantha are encountered infrequently.

One good old name that has survived is Mary. Examination of records show 17 Marys out of a total of 300 brides.

But the French influence is making inroads. Most of the Marys are now Marias. About 10 percent of the brides of the day are named Marie, or Marielien.

Rose with variations is still popular. Violet, however, seems to have faded away. Jane, once a popular name for girls, is now spelled with a T—at least on the license records—on the end.

CANDIDATES MAKE FINAL DASH

the outcome of the proposal to issue bonds for new schools and the retaining of present structures, was in a very happy state of mind during the day, feeling that the proposition will prevail among the voters.

"The school board does not desire to issue bonds without the approval of the people, for any purpose," Collins said. "We believe that the needs of the school system are such that the voters will respond to our appeal for aid. A majority against the issue would give our work a decided setback. We have confidence in the outcome."

While no particularly active campaign was made for or against the issue of bonds for fair ground purposes, Secretary G. Dale Cremona of the fair board expressed his belief during the day that the proposition will prevail.

"We feel that the people of Allen-co want the fair continued and that they will give the bond proposition their approval. At least, we hope so."

FINAL SPEAKERS
Democratic and Republican spellbinders closed the county campaign Monday night. A particularly enthusiastic final assembly was held in the McBeth school house in Shawnee-rd, where Bert Rusler presided. Addresses were delivered by Hon. J. H. Goetz, Judge Kent Hughes, Ernest Botkins and others.

Pupils of the school gave several songs and exceptionally splendid vocal numbers were given by "Happy" Koch. The meeting was a fine testimonial to J. H. Goetz by his fellow citizens of Shawnee-rd.

Mr. Goetz and Judge Hughes addressed a meeting previously at Hume. Both audiences were stirred to enthusiasm by the speakers.

The Republicans closed with meetings at Westminster, Gomer and Harrod, with Judge George Quail, Hon. J. W. Halfhill and Prof. Quail, Hon. J. W. Halfhill and John Davison as speakers.

FARMER TO BUCK STOCK BOYCOTT

Buffalo Order Buyers Refusing Offers, is Report

Members of the Allen-co Farm Bureau have been notified that order buyers in the Buffalo market are boycotting the co-operative commission house and refusing to buy the farmers' livestock.

As it is estimated that 60 percent of the livestock shipped from Ohio is handled thru co-operative shipping associations the farmers are asked to stay with their organizations and ship thru farmer owned commission houses, C. F. Metz, shipping manager says.

Plans outlined by the state department of agriculture and the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation call for sending boys into the markets where buyers will purchase them until the Buffalo buyers enter the market.

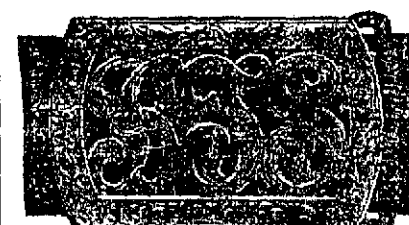

Last week saw the largest amount of livestock shipped from Allen-co by the Allen-co Livestock Co., in its history. Fifteen cars were shipped by the co-operative organization out of the 24 leaving the county.

Reports received from the farmers indicate that they are preparing to fight to a finish and the considerable livestock will be shipped out of the county within the next two weeks.

SMYRNA HORRORS BARED TO U. S.

American Woman, Back From Near East, Tells Story

REFUGEE BARGE SET ON FIRE

Torture of People by Turks Witnessed by Her

NEW YORK, (United Press).—Collapse of the Greek navy in the Near East was due to the propaganda of the Greek officers, is the belief of Mrs. C. Caldwell, wife of an American professor of mathematics at International College near Smyrna, the first woman to return to this country from the war zone. Mrs. Caldwell, who has lived in the Near East for twenty years, witnessed the sack of Smyrna before seeking safety on a steamer. Her husband is still there.

"Soup was about all the Greek soldiers had to live on," she said. "They were practically starved with thin rations. Then the officers would come out and say, 'You have been fighting since the Balkan war, why don't you go home?' thus discouraging them."

The American College, located at Paradise, four miles from the city, offered shelter to many of the refugees. One cripple told Mrs. Caldwell he had walked ten days to get away from the Turks and had had nothing but grass to eat.

For security seventeen American marines were stationed at the school and a machine gun was placed on the roof and another in the main corridor. Refugees had been coming through the city for days and on September 4 arrived packed in boxes. The American colony organized a relief committee to give aid as the Greeks began to evacuate and terrified refugees crowded the quay. The advanced guard of the Kemalists, the "chiffon" or brigands, came ahead of the Turks, followed on September 9 by the regulars.

KILLED AT COLLEGE DOOR. "Shooting increased in the streets," said Mrs. Caldwell, "and refugees poured into the college badly frightened. From the roof we could see the Turks firing and torturing people. That day at least a dozen were killed at the college door. The Turks had no respect for the American flag over the settlement house and looted the building. They discussed whether or not to kill Dr. McCoughlin, head of the college, but he went out and grabbed a bayonet from one of them and they left him alone.

"Sunday night the big Greek army evacuated and on Monday night we saw from the roof the red aw from villages in the country burning. Civilian Turks were looting houses in the city. Tuesday we appeared to the Turkish army for protection and were sent a company of brigands, who went about their looting uninterrupted by their protective duties."

The next day, according to the story, the American consul ordered all women moved to Athens and they were escorted first in automobiles to a theater. The automobiles passed near and over piles of dead bodies.

"The Turks think nothing of carrying a piece of flesh from a person," Mrs. Caldwell continued. "They slit the fingers of one man, gouged out his eyes and led him about the streets. There is no horror they will not permit."

AMERICANS AIDED.

The American teachers at the Greek College in Smyrna also aided many refugees. Mrs. Caldwell said Turks set fire to the buildings all around, while the teachers remained inside, pouring water on the window shutters in hopes of keeping out the flames.

When it looked hopeless they opened the door, whereupon the Turks commenced to shoot. Others entered the building, where many reluctant refugees remained, and brought in sacks of bombs," Mrs. Caldwell continued.

"The Turkish and Jewish quarters in Smyrna are practically untouched, but the Greek and Armenian sections, comprising more than half of the city, are in ruins. When we left it was estimated there were between 200,000 and 250,000 refugees on the quay. The Americans tried to take some of them away. The Turks caught one of our barges with 300 aboard, soaked it with paraffin and set fire to the people.

"Those that have been taken in safety to the islands are not much more than skeletons of their former selves, as they had no food and no sleep."

Deputy Game Warden Charles Haines of this district, after a survey of the territory Monday, wound up in Delphos with a statement that rabbits are more numerous than ever, and it is the opinion that the annual army of hunters this season will far exceed in number those of previous years.

The season opens November 15 and continues to January 1. Already many hunters are securing licenses from T. B. Seitz and Joe Beckman, clerks respectively from Allen and Van Wert-cos. Both may be found in Delphos, the former at the Marshall township house and the latter at Kind and Stalkamp's drug store.

WORKERS SOUGHT

Demand for Labor Here on Increase Contractors Say

More men in the building trades are at work in Lima today than at any previous time during the year, according to an estimate made Tuesday by Ora M. Green, contractor.

Green believes that November and December are to be the peak months in the building industry. Few large projects are underway he says, but scores of homes are in the process of construction. During the next two months these homes will be completed.

Another reason given by Green is that many projects were at a standstill in midsummer because of the railroad situation. Material was hard to get.

Now shipments are rolling in and the contractors are redoubling efforts to get under cover before actual winter sets in.

"We are advertising for both carpenters, and laborers," declared Green, "for the first time this season."

EYES TURNED ON TENNESSEE

Result of Election There Attracts Unusual Interest

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (United Press)—Tennessee's voters are at the polls today conscious of the fact that the political eyes of the world are focused on the state which broke the "solid south" in 1920, when it gave Warren G. Harding a big majority and elected a Republican governor, delivering him 43,500 extra votes.

The gubernatorial race in one of the closest in the annals of the state. Governor Alf A. Taylor carried the Republican standard and after seven weeks of campaigning, speaking often two or three times a day, declares that he will be re-elected by a smashing majority.

Altho he is 74 years old, he asserts that he wants to serve one more term and then retire to pursue life with his family and in the mountains of east Tennessee, where he can hunt foxes to his heart's content.

Austin May is the Democratic nominee. Senator Kenneth McKellar, Democratic nominee, is expected to be re-elected and receive a healthy majority over former Senator Newell Sanders.

HUSBAND STRUCK HER, WIFE ASSERTS IN DIVORCE SUIT

Legalistic tactics used by William Rutherford, of Cincinnati, cooled the emotions of Eskiell Rutherford, who asserts in a divorce action instituted before Judge Fred C. Becker, Tuesday.

During a family altercation between the pair, July 4, 1921, Rutherford struck his wife above her eyes, Mrs. Rutherford's petition asserts.

The petition further charges that Rutherford failed to support his wife, and spent his money in gambling and in showing other women a good time.

Mrs. Rutherford asks the court to grant her a decree and allow her to resume her former name, Eskiell Rutherford.

SALE OF FURNITURE LANDS SANDERS IN JUSTICE COURT

Domestic difficulties existing between Arthur Holman, 30, Sanders Hotel and Mrs. J. G. Bible, his wife's mother, are blamed for his arrest Tuesday, on a charge of disposing of $13.50 worth of furniture said to be owned by the latter.

Sanders entered a plea of not guilty before Justice E. M. Bottin and was released on $30 bond. He will have a hearing at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

Articles alleged to have been sold by Holman comprise a dresser, one stand, five chairs, 20 yards of carpet and one bed and springs.

ANOTHER CITIZEN GIVEN RELIEF

Lima Man Suffered With Stomach and Kidneys and Had the Rheumatism

PLANT JUICE SURPRISED HIM

Testimonial after testimonial is now being received by The Plant Juice Man from citizens of Lima in which they tell of surprising relief they have gained through use of this remarkable new herbal remedy.

At Hunter's drug store, 49 Public

MR. D. C. VANSKY

Square, large crowds of local people are now calling each day to see The Plant Juice Man and in the crowds are many who have already taken Plant Juice and who are so grateful to the medicine for the relief it has given them, that they have returned to tell The Plant Juice Man of the benefit they received.

A few days ago, The Plant Juice Man was busily engaged at his headquarters explaining his remedy, when Mr. D. C. Vansky, of 333 East Third street, a well known resident of this city, called and gave the following testimonial.

"For more than year, I had suffered with my stomach," said Mr. Vansky, "and also, my kidneys were badly disordered and I had the rheumatism all thru my body. My stomach was so bad that nearly everything I ate would make me suffer from cramps and I started losing weight. I had bad pains in my back and my kidneys became so disordered that I could not sleep."

"I took many medicines but did not get any results and then, finally, I saw that your Plant Juice was so highly recommended and I decided to try it. I am surprised at the results I have gotten from Plant Juice and because now, I can eat anything I want without distress and don't have the cramps in my stomach anymore. My kidneys are improved and the pains in my back are gone. I am able to sleep well. And also, your Plant Juice has helped the rheumatism wonderfully. The truth is that I can't say enough for Plant Juice after the relief I got and I want to recommend it to people who suffer as I did."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wagon streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

G. O. P. CONCEDES LOSS IN HOUSE

Claims and Counter-Claims Made in Today's Election

GAINS SEEN BY DEMOCRATS

Interesting Contests Confront Voters of Various States

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

NEW YORK — (United Press)—The great American jury today registered its verdict upon the work of those who have controlled the nation's political destiny the past two years, and expressed its judgment concerning the control to be exercised for the coming two years.

With the opening of the polls this morning, the "off-year" congressional election was under way. The entire membership of the house of representatives, 435, was to be elected, and 24 United States senators.

Thirty-three governors, many state legislatures and a host of state, county and municipal officials were to be chosen.

Election day found leaders of the Republican party swept into power two years ago on the crest of the landslide, claiming gains in the senate and conceding losses in the house, but insisting they would control the next house by from 40 to 60 votes. Democratic leaders disputed Republican claims of senatorial gains and said the house margin would be cut to 20 or perhaps wiped out.

The people were voting largely on a local basis. That is, there was no great nation-wide political enthusiasm and the issues were local, rather than national. Politicians called it a "spoils election" because in some states the interest was strong, while in most of them apathy prevailed up to election day.

INTERESTING CONTESTS

These states presented the most interesting contests:

Ohio—President Harding's home state, was asked by all the "big guns" of the administration to give strong approval to the president and his policies. By electing Earl Warren governor and Simon D. Fess to the senate, Democrats made an aggressive fight behind Senator Allen Pomeroy and A. V. Donahy, a candidate for governor.

New York — Interest centered in the gubernatorial contest between former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democrat and Governor Nathan Miller, Republican. If Smith wins, he will, his friends assert, be the outstanding Democratic figure in the state in 1924. The senate contest between Senator Charles McNary and Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, was rather light in the heat of the Miller battle.

Massachusetts — Senator Lodge, in the year was threatened by political enemies by forces he made by his attitude on the issue of nations the Irish question and other issues. Lodge is trying to come back for a sixth term in the senate. His Democratic opponent today is William A. Gaston.

Missouri — In this state "Fight Jim" Reed, is trying, with the aid of Republican "feel votes," to prevent himself being shoved into political obscurity. Reed has been fought by Wilson and the league of nations. R. R. Brewster, his Republican adversary has made an aggressive contest.

Texas — The Ku Klux Klan issue was raised early in the Texas senatorial campaign and resulted in independent Democrats forming a coalition with Republicans behind George E. Paddy, who is opposed to Earl B. Mayfield, winner of the Democratic senatorial nomination. The issue has been hotly contested.

Minnesota — Mrs. Anna Dickie Olson, Democrat and Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, have gone after Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Republican, hammer and tongs, in one of the most interesting campaigns Minnesota ever saw.

Michigan — The issue of Newberryism was prominent all thru the campaign of Senator Townsend, Republican, for reelection. Former Governor Ferris is opposing him.

New Jersey — Next to Ohio, New Jersey has been the center of the demand for an endorsement of the Harding administration. Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, is a political and personal intimate of Mr. Harding and on that ground very largely has conducted his campaign. Governor Edward I. Edwards, Democrat and vet, has assailed Frelinghuysen's stand on the wet and dry issue and on other questions, including the seating of Newberry.

California — Hiram Johnson, one-time progressive leader, has a number of opponents for the senate among them being Upton Sinclair, Socialist author of several "muck raking" novels.

Pennsylvania — Gifford Pinchot, progressive, beat the regular Republican organization for the gubernatorial nomination and has promised to give Pennsylvania governmental affairs a cleaning up. John A. McPherson, his Democratic opponent, has charged Pinchot with being too friendly with the old Pennrose organization.

In addition, Ohio and Illinois voted today directly on the restoration of beer and light wines, while Massachusetts and California voted indirectly.

In New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Texas and a number of other states the wet and dry question was a leading issue all thru the campaign and doubtless will affect the result today.

OFF TO VOTE.

WASHINGTON, (Associated Press)—Elections over the country today had their reflex in Washington. In every government department there were many vacant places, several members of the cabinet and many under officials and employees having gone home to vote. The exodus this year, however, was not as great as usual as an increasing number voted by mail.

Having registered his choices in this manner, President Harding was at his office at the usual hour with a full day ahead. Tonight he was to get the returns in his study as rapidly as they could be received at the executive offices over an Associated Press wire and relayed to him over the telephone by Secretary Christian.

Four members of the president's cabinet remained in Washington. Of these Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Wallace voted by mail. Attorney General Daugherty also voted by mail, but spent today in Baltimore with Mrs. Daugherty who is recuperating there after an operation.

Both of the major parties maintain organizations here to get the votes of the residents who have the right to vote by mail.

Party officers charged with this work declare that women take far more interest in sending their vote home by mail than do the men. They offer no explanation, but they do go so far as to say that the women "show far more intelligence" in preparing their ballots and picking their candidates.

WARM WEATHER IN NORTHWEST. CHICAGO, (Associated Press).—Fair weather prevailed over most of the central states today except in the northwest and with congressional races expected to play a leading part in the determination of the control of the lower house of congress at the next session, a heavy vote generally was indicated for today's elections.

The bad weather in the northwest states was expected to be a leading factor in the outcome of the races in the states affected because of the alignment of the farmer vote against other elements.

In North Dakota especially, the snow storm and the weather outlook today have used the hopes of supporters of J. F. T. O'Connor, democratic nominee for United States senator against the Non-Partisan League endorsed candidate, Lynn J. Frazier, running under the Republican banner. Nine of the thirty-three states electing United States senators today are in the middle west.

In Ohio, the Harding administration is put to the supreme test in the off year election today. Here in the home state of the president Congressman Fess, a Harding supporter is challenging the senatorial seat of one of the country's foremost Democrats—Allen Pomeroy.

Missouri presented a wet and dry fight in the senatorial contest between Senator James A. Reed, Democrat and Reginald R. Brewster, Republican. Reed, opposed by organized dry and Wilson Democrats, relied on many wet Republicans to defeat Brewster. Aside from the Democratic candidacies of a woman Mrs. J. J. Hooper who is opposing Senator LaFollette, the chief outside interest in Wisconsin centers in the candidacy of Victor Berger, Socialist for the congressional seat to which he was twice elected and both times defeated.

Another woman Democrat, Mrs. Anna Dickie Olson, is a candidate for the United States senate in the three cornered race in Minnesota with Senator Kellogg, Republican and Dr. Henrik Shipstead, a Farmer-Labor candidate.

In Iowa one of the features in the senatorial contest was interest in the size of the Republican revolt against the party nominee, Smith W. Brookhart, Clyde L. Herring, the Democratic candidate, expected support from the Republican rebels.

In Nebraska Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock and his Republican opponent R. B. Howell, ended intense campaigns for the senatorial ship.

Indiana's senatorial contest between former Senator Beveridge, Republican and former Governor Ralston Democrat, and the battle between former Senator Townsend and former Governor Norris are regarded by party managers as among the most important in the midwest and the nation.

CHARGES AGAINST CHIEF OF POLICE TO BE FILED

LORAIN — Mayor William F. Grall today ordered Director Frank Klady to file charges against Chief of Police Theodore Walker. Klady complained to Grall that he could not get cooperation from Walker in enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Grall, after receiving Klady's charges will decide whether or not Walker will be cited before the civil service commission. Walker was appointed by Grall after the resignation of former Chief of Police A. A. King.

CLEVELAND — The seventy-fifth anniversary of establishment of the Catholic diocese in Cleveland was observed here today with Bishops of a dozen cities and parishes in attendance. Archbishop Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati was celebrant of mass in St. John's Cathedral this morning.

The jubilee sermon was preached by Rt. Rev. August J. Schwertner, bishop of Wichita, Kansas, former chancellor of the diocese of Toledo. Rev. Clement Treiber, of Canton, and Rev. S. J. Kremer of Cleveland, were deacons of the mass. Rev. John Klute of Youngstown, was deacon of honor to Archbishop Moeller.

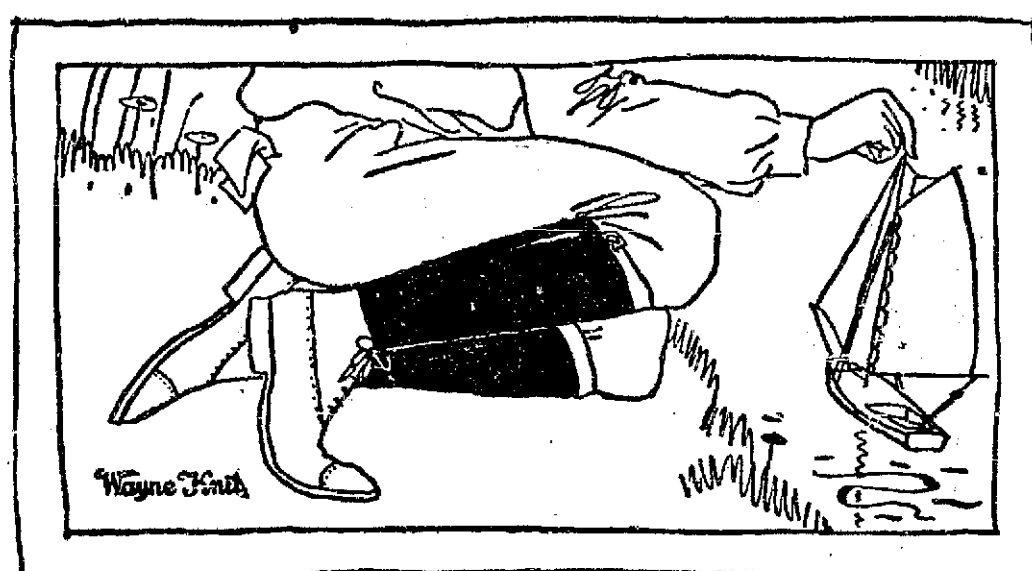

A mass meeting in Public Hall with addresses by Rev. John Cavanaugh, former president of Notre Dame University and Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Cleveland was on the night program.

EXPLORERS SEEK MISSING LINK

ON to Gather Data on the Pigny Race
WILL INVADI NEW GUINEA
Expect to Find Great Marble Cities Built Ages Ago

(By MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — A pigny race with tall—
The missing link—
Man eating lizards—
Great white marble cities built long ago by a race of supermen—
These are some of the wonders which two young Australians are going to seek in the wilds of New Guinea, the last great unexplored region on the earth's surface.
They are Lucius O. B. Connolly and Neal McNeal, who have gone together on expedition ever since childhood. But none presented the dangers of their latest exploit.
In an exclusive interview with NEA Service Connolly told of their plans.

"Few persons realize," he said, that New Guinea is the largest island in the world outside Australia. And it is the one about which least is known.
The interior has never been explored. It is thought that there are mountains as high as any in the world. Savage tribes within close proximity of the coast have various stories handed down from father to son for many generations about the wonders of the island—about the pygmies with tails, the savage giant lizards and the city built of marble, INTO DARKER GUINEA.

But clearing up these points will only be the more romantic side of the expedition. There is a very practical side. Half the island belongs to the Dutch. The other half to Australia. The center portion, 60 miles from coast to coast, has never been touched. This is where we want to go.

We propose to map it, to study its plant and animal life, to learn as much as we can about the people, its little gold and silver and precious stones to find out the kinds of things that can be profitably grown, so as to add to the world's riches.

"Once we stay away from the coast we expect to be gone for two years and a half, looking in touch with the outside world by a wireless outfit we will carry."

The conditions of the trip are not to be described. But they will be the most interesting. Many of the people are head hunters and eaters of human flesh—in other words, cannibals. There are forests in which huge pygmies lurk; rivers with crocodiles; and swamps in which crocodiles swarm, and the deadly mosquito.

CHANCE FOR SOLDIERS
"I hope to lead the first part of our expedition in November. We will start out at some point in the north and where we will set up our main base. There will be about eight men in this party. Then some time in the winter the main expedition in charge of McNeal and myself will set forth. We will have some of the native police force—perhaps about 150 of them—to form our guard against savage tribes.

"We want about eight non-technical volunteers. They must be experienced men of good education, young, strong and unmarried."

FLYING BUSINESS IS BOOMING IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY — Former pilots in the United States Air Service are making an enviable reputation in Mexico.
In the employ of a private company here, 12 American pilots have flown nearly 200,000 kilometers during the past year, according to a report made by the company to the Mexican air service.
There were no serious accidents during the year to the American flyers. Aviation is advancing rapidly in Mexico and Mexican pilots are making remarkable progress.

CUT OUT STRIFE

DISSENSION, discord and general contention that has been engendered by one of the most desperately fought political battles in the history of Ohio, is now virtually at an end. The strife that has been stirred up should be forgotten—and forgotten quickly.

There was never any occasion for it in the first place. And now that it will soon be all over, with the counting of the ballots cast today and the announcement of the result, there should be a well defined resolution in the hearts and minds of the partisans generally and the candidates especially, winners and losers, to forget it as quickly as possible.

After all, it makes very little difference to the average citizen whether the nation, state, district and county are served by Democrats or Republicans as public officials. Parties seem to be necessary, however, and those who vote must align themselves somewhere, altho they may consider themselves ultra independent.

Incidents occur during the heat of a political campaign that have no place therein—but they get in somehow. Under ordinary conditions such things would not occur and since they have occurred, the thing for all parties to do is to forget it speedily. The old state will wag along somehow no matter which of the parties wins the offices. All are typical American citizens, standing for the best interests of their country as they see it.

Acrimony has no part, legitimately, in politics any more than it has in the ordinary affairs of life, but it is a difficult thing to keep out—in fact, it is impossible. Fortunately, however, the average citizen does not long harbor such memories. It is well that it is so.

ARMISTICE DAY

FOUR years ago Saturday the World War came to an end. It was the most sanguinary conflict the world has ever witnessed. More lives were lost and more billions of dollars wasted than in any previous war.

America played a big part in the titanic struggle. For one year our boys were "over there" in the ruck and muck and hell of storm of shot and shell. Our part was well done. American youth, in the uniform of their country and under our glorious flag, turned back the enemy and brought to the allies a victory after defeat was apparent, before the United States made entry.

Armistice Day has been declared a legal holiday. It is fitting and proper, meet and right that on the annual recurrence of that day all the citizenry in every community should unite with the veterans of the World War in a proper observance of the day. Armistice Day to the World War heroes is what Decoration Day is to the survivors of the Civil War.

It is a time when a tribute is paid to the dead by the living. Those men who laid down their lives for their country are heroes whose memory should never be forgotten—it will not be forgotten. Those who came thru the storm of shot and shell and who survived the horrors of the conflict will annually observe the day so long as they live and after they have passed, others will carry on, remembering the deed of valor of the boys of 1917-18.

Lima, in common with other communities all over this broad land, will be the scene of a special celebration of the day. Marching throngs, speech and song will feature the day. The local program is in keeping with the sentiment of the occasion. All citizens should unite with the veterans in the services of the day.

CANADA

CANADA expects to have her own ambassador, possibly under a different title, representing her in Washington. Heretofore her diplomatic relations with us have been handled thru the British ambassador.

It means, Canada thinks it wiser to deal with Uncle Sam direct instead of thru a third party thousands of miles away. A sensible arrangement for northern Canada understands a better than the King himself.

HOW NOT TO HANDLE BOILS

I'm going to begin within the next 10 or 20 years a monumental system of family medicine and first aid, devoting the first nine volumes to what not to do before the doctor arrives, and several whole pages to the conventional antics of the average bystander. Including a short paragraph on popular methods of cultivation of boils.

Whether a plain, every day boil is or is not to be followed by a long line of lusty successors depends on the handling of the boil. There is just one rule regarding the management of a boil, which if strictly obeyed will practically insure the victim against return engagements, and that rule is: Never handle a boil. One person in a hundred developing a boil can or will resist the desire or temptation of getting his fingers on the boil; and even that one, unless he sees that his fingers are soiled, seldom thinks it worth while to wash his hands after he has touched the boil. The pus germs which cause the boil enter from the outside world, not thru the blood, and so in the beginning of a boil the wicked germs are present on as well as in or under the skin of the sore spot, and in virulent or nasty condition, ready to do their worst. Curious, inquisitive, undisciplined fingers therefore become contaminated early in the game, and the wonder is that the careless or unduly victim of a boil has only a dozen or two successors and ultimately develops sufficient immunity to get well in spite of his mismanagement.

Never touch a boil or any sore or pimple that resembles a young boil. If you are one of the 99, then the next best thing you can do is scrub your hands with soap and hot water right away before your fingers person or any other thing.

Never touch anything that has touched a boil.

There are two simple rules. Obey them and you will never cultivate a line of boils. One boil is quite enough for a decent, careful, cleanly intelligent person to have in a season. More later if you will have more.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Gluten Bread
Would you advise me to eat gluten bread instead of ordinary bread, to reduce my starch?—Mrs. M. H.
Answer—Gluten bread yields about 1150 calories per pound. Ordinary white bread yields about 1220 calories per pound. So practically nothing is to be gained, or rather lost, by eating gluten bread in preference to ordinary white bread. I know of no gluten flour or bread which contains no starch. Such bread ordinarily contains about half starch.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRADLEY
NO USE AT ALL

I started out in my career
To "get the money" while I could.
For tho the poets scoff and sneer,
To have a bunch of kale is good.
And in life's swift and busy whirl
I gathered jack with all my skill.
But failed to win me any girl,
And what is "jack" without a Jill?

What tho my balance at the bank
Be beautiful to gaze upon,
I find my life is bleak and blank
Without a girl to spend it on;
So tho I tolled with all my might
To put the cold cash in my till.

I find my work is wasted, futile;
For what is "jack" without a Jill?
Put money in your purse; 'twill give
The laugh to wait and hunger
dread,
It makes things brighter while you live
And pays to plan you when you're dead;
But having money lacks in pith,
It brings no fun, no joyous thrill,
Without a girl to share it with,
For what is "jack" without a Jill!

FIRE BURNS HOME

Atkinson Residence Damaged to Extent of $1,000

Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of the home of J. B. Atkinson, 1157 W. High-st., at 7:45 a. m. Tuesday morning and caused damage of approximately $1,000.

The sparks fell at the base of the chimney and the fire gained considerable headway before it was noticed. The occupants of the house were not aware of the fire until the arrival of the apparatus.

Damage by water was lessened by firemen, who carried the hose line thru the house and fought the fire from the inside.

The house was formerly the Bloom homestead.

MRS. HALL LOOKS FOR INDICTMENT

Expects to be Charged With Husband's Murder

GRAND JURY TO ACT SOON

Brother of Widow Plans Trip Around World

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — (United Press) — Mrs. Frances N. Hall, widow of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was murdered with Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills nearly eight weeks ago, expects to be indicted by the Somerset grand jury late this week, on a charge of first degree murder, it was said at her home today.

Two measures expected to be indicted with Mrs. Hall. One, according to present indications, will be indicted as an accessory after the fact, charged with withholding evidence which would in all probability have simplified the solving of the double murder. No indication has been received from the officials working on the case as to who the man is who will be indicted on the first degree murder charge.

STEVENS PLANS TRIP
Henry Stevens, brother of Mrs. Hall, plans to force authorities to "show their hands" shortly by leaving on a tour around the world, his wife announced today.

The Stevens family believes that state troopers who have been watching his home at Lavette will be either forced to act or give him a "clean bill of health" as he attempts to leave, she said.

"We think it about time we went away from Lavette just to force an issue with authorities."

GAS COMPANY WINS TAX VALUATION FIGHT

COLUMBUS — The state supreme court today affirmed the lower courts in the case brought by the Connecting Gas Company of Hocking-co. against the state tax commission to have the commission's tax valuation of the gas company's property modified.

The commission had fixed a value of $2,160,550. On appeal to the courts, the valuation was reduced to $1,660,550. Both the company and the commission contended that the lower courts had not been presented with sufficient evidence to warrant a change in the commission's valuation. The tax commission took the case to the supreme court. The tax commission had arrived at its valuation by capitalizing the company's average net earnings for four years at eight per cent.

"UPSETS" SPOIL CALCULATIONS OF GRID DOPESTERS

CORNELL LEADING

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — "Figure not to be figured—crazy" might apply to the figure jugglers who attempt to do up this season's football. Two tremendous upsets in last week's eastern games destroyed all calculations. Nebraska lost to Syracuse and Alabama defeated Pennsylvania.

Syracuse was figured to be a snarl for Nebraska, a team that came out touted as one who could take the big eastern teams one after another on successive days. It was not until after the big game that it was learned that Syracuse was the victor.

After defeating the great Navy eleven the week previous, Penn went into a sort of emotional trance and fell an easy victim before an under-estimated Alabama eleven.

Washington and Cornell's victory over the under-rated Lafayette eleven might be regarded as a surprise only to those who picked Lafayette to win. Both teams were evenly matched and W. and J. won because their game went above their should.

Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Army, Washington and Jefferson, and West Virginia are undoubted among the eastern teams. Harvard still looks to be the best rounded and the most powerful eleven. Three of them will go to the West for the season.

Cornell with 253 points leads the east in scoring. Bucknell has scored 200; Colgate 192, Carnegie Tech 182; Army 172, and Penn State 167.

Notre Dame leads the west in scoring with 186 points. Auburn is the best in the south with 252 points and California leads on the Pacific coast with 251.

Michigan is the only major team in the country that has not had its goal line crossed at a point other than the end zone.

Jimmy Robertson, Carnegie Tech, leads the east in individual scoring with 73 points from 12 touchdowns and one point after touchdown. Brunner, Lafayette back, is second with 71; Wilson, Penn State back, is third with 61 and Penn State quarterback leads, is fourth with 55.

Robertson leads in touchdowns scored with 12; Hanson, Cornell leads in goals after touchdown with 23 and McBride, Syracuse leads in field goals with three.

A. A. U. Officials Call Meeting To Discuss Olympic Games

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — After a lot of petty bickering around, movement finally have been made to do something constructive to get the United States ready for the 1928 Olympic games.

Acting rather gracefully to break what looked like a deadlock of politics, the A. A. U. has made one concession to their opposing nations that no doubt will get all strands of amateur athletes working harmoniously.

The American Olympic Association, in calling a meeting for November 22 in Washington, announced a change in the voting power of the various affiliated organizations which reduced the A. A. U. from 35 to 23 votes. Under this plan, the Army, the Navy and National Amateur Athletic Federation, which objected to the control of the A. A. U., no doubt will join.

The hundred members from all branches of athletics in all sections of the country will be named on the Olympic committees at this meeting and plans will be adopted to raise funds to finance the trip of the American team to Paris.

Talk of holding the 1928 Olympic games in the United States is not being taken seriously by the A. A. U. officials. There are of the opinion that America would not be selected, even if they wanted the games here and they are not sure that they want them.

It wouldn't be as much fun for athletes and the officials to get into the subway and go out to the stadium as to grab a nice lunch and go away on a party to Europe.

Genuine regret is expressed over the decision of the "Big Three" to stop international games in the future. Harvard did not want to sever the pleasant relations with Centre College. On the contrary, the Crimson officials liked the little southern college, as the Harvard coaches figured it a valuable game for the development of the team.

Fred Moran, manager of athletics at Harvard told Charles Moran, Centre coach, that the Crimson always learned something good in the Centre game.

Even if Centre cannot go back to Harvard, it does not mean that the "Physic" Colonel will not be seen in the future in the east. It is understood that both Cornell and Columbia would like to bring the southerners to the Yankee stadium next fall.

Centre and some mighty nice things to say about the way they were treated on their three visits to Harvard.

"Harvard, I think is one of the fine universities in the country," Coach Moran said. "They couldn't do enough for us. They reminded me of the old woman in the little country hotel who asked her guests to stay every hour during the night to see if they wanted anything. It's too bad that every football team in the country cannot have the privilege of seeing first hand how Harvard does things."

Harvard has been criticized for many things in the past and probably will be in the future, but no one can deny that the Crimson team that went to Cambridge and that the Crimson athletes and students were anything but perfect gentlemen and good sports.

Centre and some mighty nice things to say about the way they were treated on their three visits to Harvard.

"Harvard, I think is one of the fine universities in the country," Coach Moran said. "They couldn't do enough for us. They reminded me of the old woman in the little country hotel who asked her guests to stay every hour during the night to see if they wanted anything. It's too bad that every football team in the country cannot have the privilege of seeing first hand how Harvard does things."

CHEERING HELPS

(By MERRICK M. HILL)

South is going into the fray against Central on Thanksgiving Day with one big advantage over the Red and Green squadrons because of the fact that the South team is supported by an enthusiastic, shouting, cheering student body.

The value of the support given the team, when they are hard pressed, by the cheering of their backers is often underestimated but the fact remains that games have been won and lost by the added strength given the eleven by their student body.

South turns out much more enthusiastically the crowds than does Central and the team also has the support of the parents, but at Central it has been noticeable all season that the turnout of students is smaller, very few parents are showing an interest in the game and the haphazard cheering is weak and scattered.

In fact, several times last Saturday cheers thinned out, because students did not know the "ells" in football has been one of the biggest handicaps Central has had to overcome and their showing Saturday against Tiffin was the more remarkable because of the fact that their team seems to be very little school spirit behind the team.

Following the win over Tiffin Coach Thibbert has ordered a two day vacation to the entire squad, leaving bruised muscles and stiff joints an opportunity to round into shape. The squad will be out Wednesday night and the mentor will start pointing the eleven for Dipsa.

South, however, did not rest but started Monday to perfect new plays in preparation for the South-Troy game on Armistice day. One of the hardest weeks of the season is in view, the Blue and Gold aggregation who hope to build up a real winning machine during the week.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By BATTILING SIKI
As Told to Milton Bronner
Chapter Four—Siki Resumes Boxing

When the war was over, my artillery regiment was sent to Versailles near Paris. I was demobilized shortly afterward.

I was Corporal Louis Phal, with two decorations and honorable wounds. Also, I had no job and only 200 francs. But I wanted to be thru dishwashing.

I asked for a job as a waiter in a little restaurant. The owner was a good fellow. He saw my medals and gave me a chance, even if I did break plates occasionally. His was a plain little place where you didn't have to put on a lot of style. No, the work was much nicer than dishwashing.

I cut lots of fish. I cut meat that sticks to the ribs. I like to gnaw the bones. It keeps your teeth white and strong. I don't drink tea or coffee or milk. In France I drink wine like a Frenchman. In Holland I drink beer like a Dutchman.

Also, I smoke a good deal. When not training I like to be with men, smoking and talking and drinking. When I train, I take lots of sleep. Sleep is good for a fighter. It helps build his body and quiets his nerves.

(Copyright, 1922.)

I had a couple of fights in 1920. I went to Toulouse and beat Henry in 10 rounds on points, and knocked out J. Andouy in four rounds, after losing to him on points six years before.

One day I had my arm full of dishes and a man came to me and said: "You are Siki!"

I told him I was. He said he wanted me to fight in Paris, against Dorezi, champion of the French army. The boss let me off to train, as he thought it would help his eating place if I won or put up a good losing fight. The patrons would know Siki, the fighter, was waiting on them. Maybe he was a sly dog.

I knocked out Dorezi in three rounds.

I may be a fighter, but I am a rotten business man. I am almost ashamed to tell you how little I got for fighting the army champion—300 francs, which was only about $25 in American money then.

I don't think I only got a little money because I am colored. No, I think it is because until I met Charley Hellers, my present manager, I never had anybody to advise me what I ought to get. Why, even in my biggest fights with men like Journee and Carpenter, I drew down small sums.

After beating Dorezi I could get other fights to carry me along until the next one. In the spring of 1920 I knocked out V. Marchand and Westbrook and won from LeFevre, J. Dupuis, Rene Devos and J. Liggett.

"SHEAL TICKET" DAYS

But I wasn't getting anywhere. I was only considered a fourth rate.

WOOSTER ELEVEN GIVEN REST

WOOSTER, Ohio — Wooster football men will rest until Wednesday evening, when the practice for the Kenyon game, November 11, will begin.

It is the first rest Coach Boles has allowed his men this season, and follows Wooster's defeat by Denison and its elimination from the ranks of conference teams with clean slates.

Van Nest and Junkin, linemen, are still hobbling around the campus on canes, having been badly banged up during the first quarter of the Denison game. No serious injuries have showed up among the men so far as the result of Saturday's battle, altho Hurst, backfield man, whose strained shoulder kept him out of all but the third quarter of the game, is a bit worse for the wear.

Saturday's defeat was the first of the season for Wooster whose supremacy seemingly had been unshakable. Facing the Presbyterians are two hard games, the first with Kenyon, and the next with Mount Union, whose rise to the first rank of Ohio conference has been one of the sensations of the season. Both colleges always give Wooster a hard fight.

Wooster will meet Kenyon fully determined to get revenge for its 3-0 defeat which last November broke the Wooster's string of consecutive victories.

MOTHER WRITES OF NORMA AND CONNIE ABROAD

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
Norma and Connie Talmadge are selling a lot of life on their foreign jaunt, according to a letter just received from Mrs. Margaret Talmadge. She wrote from Tunis where the girls stopped before going to Egypt.
"People have recognized them in the most out-of-the-way places," their mother writes. "Their rooms are always filled with flowers and are always from the quarters in the hotel bring them strings of white roses every morning. We have been amazed to find faded photographs of both of them and old pictures cut out of newspapers tacked on walls or stuck in cracked mirrors. "Connie has learned to eat the native dish, kus-kus, but Norma cannot abide it.
"In the old bazaars we have found the oriental jewelry and beautiful embroidered fans and marvelous coverings. Don't be surprised if you should meet the two of them on Broadway wearing curious anklets and earrings eight inches long.
"Our journey thru Germany was interesting, although the poverty of the people is very depressing. One poor beggar crawled on his knees to

ALLIES PLAN WAR AGAINST TURKS

French Cabinet Meets to Consider Military Action

CONSTANTINOPLE — (Associated Press)—Three additional classes of Turkish soldiers have been called to the colors.
"When we got home and told Mr. Schneck of the poor man's gratitude he asked how much Norma had given him. 'One thousand marks!' she replied proudly, expecting to be praised for her generosity.
"Mr. Schneck laughed us to shame and told us our smug satisfaction had resulted from giving the man about a quarter in American money. "We travel so quickly we just about learn the coin of one country when we have to start all over in the next. Connie gets so confused she arranges her paper money in stacks of different denominations and allows the chambermaids to pick out their own tips.
"We expect to sail from London Nov. 16, being due there Nov. 8, to check up on the contest Norma is conducting to select an English girl for a part in her next picture, "Within the Law." Connie intends to found a fund for disabled veterans. We'll see you when we get back on the Mauretania, Nov. 23."

LONDON — (United Press)—The allied governments today instructed their high commissioners in Constantinople to oppose Turkish threats to violate the Mudania agreement with force if necessary.
The foreign office let it be known that Britain will not in any way capitulate to Mustafa Kemal's demands. It is believed possible that Kemal is merely bluffing.
FRENCH CABINET MEETS
PARIS — (United Press)—Marshal Foch, allied war-time commander-in-chief, was summoned by Premier Poincare today to consider military plans to be invoked should the Turks violate the Mudania agreement.
A cabinet meeting was also held to consider the inflammable Near Eastern situation again brought to a crisis by seizure of Constantinople by Turkish nationalist civil authorities.
Foch, considering necessity of possible military action, is understood to have maintained to Poincare that it would be comparatively easy for the allies to stop Mustafa Kemal's men should they attempt to cross toward Thrace as threatened.
Official France, as well as the press, executed an about face from its position of sympathy with Turk nationalist movements today. From all quarters was voiced a demand that the Moslems not be allowed to violate the Mudania agreement or endanger the international regime over the neutral zone.
PANIC IN CONSTANTINOPLE
CONSTANTINOPLE — (United Press)—Panic reigned in foreign Constantinople as Turkish nationalist military forces advanced close to the barbed wire barricades of the British at Chamanak. The Kemalists served notice that the British would not be allowed to advance beyond the three-mile neutral limit. General Harrington, British commander, promptly ordered a sharp protest to Ismet Pasha, Turk commander, following this event.
Disorders accompanied the panic in Constantinople, coincident with the city's seizure by Kemal's civil authorities and the menacing attitude of the Moslem military. Four British soldiers were stabbed in street fighting. Greeks fled toward Salonica, fearing unprecedented massacres.
Turkish nationalists further violated the armistice agreement signed with the allies at Mudania by attempting to

FESS, CABLE ARE CLOSE WINNERS

Preferred by High School Senate in Hot Debate

One of the hottest debates on record took place in the Senate of Central High School last night when the youthful senators battled to a standstill in determining who should be elected to the United States senate and the house of representatives.
"Be it resolved by the Senate of Lima Central high school that we urge the people to support Fess and Cable in their vote" was the bill which caused so much discussion. Two votes were taken, one for Pomerene or Fess and the other for Cable or Goeke. The youthful senators made Fess victorious by the close vote of 16-15. Cable defeated Goeke 17-14.
Senators Frey and Pierce upheld the affirmative, while Welty and Everett defended the negative side. Senator Frey in the first speech contended that Pomerene's inconsistency would make him undesirable for Senator. He also stated that Fess had a better record than Pomerene and that Fess had done much in making and carrying thru the budget bill.
Senator Everett endeavored to show that Pomerene had a better record than Fess and should be re-elected by the people. Senator Pierce stated that all workings would be opposed to Pomerene because of his position against strikes and strikers. In the last speech Senator Welty repeated and made more emphatic his colleague's statements. He also attacked Pomerene's statements. He also attacked Pomerene's statements. He also attacked Pomerene's statements.
After a short business session the session adjourned.

HARLEY ASKS VETS TO PARADE

Every Ex-soldier in County Should March, Marshal Says

"Every ex-service man in the county should be in the Armistice Day parade," Colonel John Harley, grand marshal of the parade, declared Tuesday.
"Other organizations are preparing to celebrate the day and the service men should not trail along behind," he said. "There is a place for every soldier and if he is not there he will be missed."
Ex-service men will meet at the corner of North and Elizabeth-sts Saturday at 1 p. m. in front of the Buckeye-bldg. Colonel John Harley said. The parade will start at 1:30 p. m.
Colonel Harley pointed out the example being set by the G. A. R. veterans as an incentive which should make every veteran of the World War desire to be in the ranks Saturday afternoon.
Programs to be held in the public schools as a prelude to the celebration of Armistice Day are being carried forward in a very satisfactory manner, Homer Hughes, chairman, said Tuesday.
Hearty cooperation of the school authorities is being seen and it is believed the programs will be even better than those of last year. Parochial schools are also arranging programs.
Members of the general committee will meet at the chamber of commerce auditorium Tuesday night to consider the final details of the celebration.

Eugene M. Sealtie, salesman, was eating a lunch in a restaurant. A man who sat next to him was preparing his food very carefully. He began to drink it, stopped suddenly, and yelled to the waitress: "Say! You gave me vinegar!"

Glenn O. Eversole, 617 N. Collett, at, gestured so vehemently in a political controversy that he sprained his arm.

After ten years Dr. Frederick Blankner the Distinguished Chicago Specialist fulfills his promise to many people and will visit Lima from Weds. Nov. 8 until Weds. Nov. 15th, Parlor B. Lima House.

For many years Dr. Frederick Blankner, the distinguished Chicago Specialist has visited this section of the state and from time to time has served many people from Lima and vicinity when invariably they would invite him to visit Lima. This is the first opportunity that he has had in the last ten years to make his promise good and all concerned will now have an opportunity to make a Little Journey to Parlor B, Lima House, to meet Dr. Blankner face to face in a right from the shoulder, honest, conscientious heart to heart talk when he will explain to you just why you are sick and advise you just how you can regain your health.

For the past thirty-five years, Dr. Blankner has specialized in complicated chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, heart, lungs, kidneys and nerves and such subsidiary diseases resulting therefrom, such as chronic nasal catarrh, chronic eczema, goiter, rheumatism, acne, blood poisoning and afflictions peculiar to men and women.

The following letter is characteristic of many letters received from various places that Dr. Blankner visited.

Cambridge, Ohio, Dec. 18th, 1911. I have visited Cambridge, we know of personal knowledge many people have accepted his treatment and in every case and to all with whom I have spoken, they have had nothing but praise to speak for the doctor and people from all parts of this and surrounding counties to come see him and we do not hesitate to say his record is first class in particular and that he is thoroughly dependable and a blessing to humanity. We heartily endorse him as a thorough master workman. (Signed) Mr. R. V. Acherson, Banker; Mr. C. F. Henry, Court clerk; Mr. J. C. Longworth, ex-Mayor; J. W. Hill, Editor Quaker Independent; E. L. McInerney, Editor Guernsey County Times; Mr. Amos, Manager Daily Jeffersonian; Mr. Jas. Joyce, Atty. at Law a Congressman; Mr. Dwight J. Robinson, Editor Daily Bystreetville press.

Mr. L. G. Barton, editor Holmes County Farmer, says: "Dr. Fr. Blankner has never been equaled by any one we know of and any letter to all his patients and especially has proven that he is a exceptional expert in the art of extracting teeth without pain."

Mr. Samuel Kinnear, postmaster, Columbus, Ohio, endorses Dr. Blankner for all he claims that of an honest, thorough and square dealing physician.

Hon. Warren G. Harding, now our president, said, that after months visit to Marion Dr. Blankner established an unexcelled record in his line of work.

Mr. E. C. Dix, editor Woster Republican says, "In the matter of a complicated chronic disease and extracting teeth without pain, his services are surely fortunate in obtaining same."

Hundreds of endorsements from all parts of the state of Ohio are given. This is enough to satisfy any one that Dr. Blankner is of consideration of any one needing service in his line of work.

Hundreds of people suffer as a result of diseases and ulcerated that would gladly have them extracted if they only knew they could be done without pain. Now listen, you come to the Lima House, I ask the clerk for Dr. Blankner and he will direct you to Parlor B, you will find the doctor. All you have to do is to sit down in a go as you please rocking chair, when Dr. Blankner will sit down beside and extract one diseased tooth after the other so easily, gracefully, scientifically and painlessly that you will simply have, and say, "God bless the doctor." No, you don't have to take ether, gas, somnatoform, eucairn or novocain. Thirty-two teeth as easily as one at one sitting. No danger of taking cold. No bad results. In fact, you receive every benefit possible to best member that Dr. Blankner gets all the very worst cases and he is especially successful where others have failed. Nothing marvelous. Nothing wonderful but just simply knowing how to do the work.

If you come to Dr. Blankner for medical treatment and for the removal of diseased teeth as part of the treatment the first Dr. Blankner will do is to extract them and after he extracts one tooth you will be more than anxious to have all your diseased teeth extracted. It makes no difference how nervous you may be, how badly you have disease, how hard your teeth are to extract, how badly ulcerated how deep the roots may be imbedded, it is your business to journey and Dr. Blankner's business to do the work according to specifications given above. Are you wise to the opportunity, you to determine. From Wednesday, November 8th, until Wednesday, November 15th, Parlor B, Lima House. Doctor's wife in attendance.
